ESPRIT DE CORPS OF THE

There is, upon the whole, an absence of jenlousy and of cliques at the Bar, which compares favourably with other professions, remarks a writer in the Cornhill Magazine in discussing prospects in the profession. As a general rule everybody plays for the game, and a man's own personal gains or losses are forgotten in the fight. There is a general disposition at the Bar to rejoice if one may see the best ma win. There are no mon who harbour resentment less than barristers. Perhaps it is because fighting as advocates teaches men that there are two ways of looking at everything. Be this as it may, quarrels are hardly ever persisted in at the Bar, and causes of strife, which would separate two neighbouring vicars or fellow-churchwardens for ever, are frequently set at rest by barristers in the luncheon interval next after they arise. Barristers tend to be a cheerful race, in spite the depressing circumstances ation for 4; light draft, good sporting in which so many of them live. Cynicism would sell share, as he very soldom uses and luck of interest in life, real or affected, are not encouraged in the forensic ranks. Public spirit is usually 2224 wide-awake in barristers; every public assembly, from the Houses of Parliament to the parish council, knows them well, and knows them for the energy which they throw into everything which they touch. The courage CLENTHORNE, Kowloon, Overlookof the Bar is immense. The youngest Of ing Hunghom Bay, Possession barrister is trained from the first to face all the 'powers that be,' to care for nothing but the cause, and to be > sat upon by nobody. The late Mr Baron Pollock used to say that every barrister married for love. The statement is surprisingly near the truth. The great majority of barristers marry young. On the strength of our first guinea prosecution 2062 we married, a high dignitary of the law said lately in an after-dinner speech. And we think that the work is all the botter for the fact.

CHAMBERLAIN'S COUGH REMEDY IS intended especially for coughs, colds, croup; whooping cough and influenza. It has become famous for its cures of these diseases over a large part of the civilized world. The most flattering testimonials have been received, giving accounts of its good works; of the aggravating and persistent coughs it has cured; of severe colds that have yielded promptly to its soothing effects, and of the dangerous attacks of croup it has cured, often saving the life of SECOND FLAT of SEA VIEW, a EUROPEAN DWELLING HOUSE, conthe child. The extensive use of it for taining FOUR ROOMS, also BATH ROOM whooping cough has shown that it robs the 29th of November, 1902, at 2.30 p.m. at | and Servanta Quarters. The Graphic Christmas Number, published to-day, is, as usual, illustrated throughout in colours; and contains a number of good stories by such popular writers as H. S. Merriman, Eden Phillpotts, H. I Marriott Watson, the Rev. S. Baring Gould, Mrs. Stepney, J. A. Barry, and Roma White, with a characteristic poem by Thomas Hardy. These stories are illustrated by the well-known artist, Seymour Lucas, R.A., C. Napier Hemys, A.R.A., and Frank Craig, R.I., while humorous pages are contributed by H. M. Brock, Tom Browne, R.I., W. Ralston, John Hassall, R.I., Reginald Cleaver, A. Guillaume, and Claude Shepperson, R.I. Two beautifully coloured plates are given away with the number-'Lady Craven, Ladies' Recreation Club. from the portrait by George Romney, and Snowed Up in the Coaching Days,' by

'THE LADY OF OSTEND."

It was the genius of the comedy writers of the period of the ruff and the pointed beard which first secured for the stage a really solid foundation of general popularity; it is,

maintains the security of this structure. The Lady of Ostend, played last night by Miss Janet Waldorf's Co., is a comedy of the most modern English School. It may not have the grace or the literary merit of pieces such as The School for Scandal or the The Financial News mentions a report | Rivals -- it has no claims to such -- but in its stage depiction Burnand's story appeals to: us twentieth-century folk far more effec-K.C.B., and Mr Henry Austin Lee, C.B., tively than the jests and the satires of Shoridan and his 'three bottle' friends. The life we live teems with a quiet fun, if we only knew it. Mr Burnand doos. But its measure and its scope are trivial, when put in comparison with those of more hypocritically-lived times. The Lady of Ostend, like its precursor of some twenty and more years back, Our American Cousin, trots out these trivialities without scruple, but the pill is conted with the most honeyed words and the most frolicsome doings, making us laugh heartily and leaving thought for those only who Horr Krupp, the celebrated ordnance care for after-reflection. There was no manufacturer of Essen, Germany, is dead. mistake about the success of last night's The ead event has caused a great sensation performance. Laughter reigned from first to last. The balance of the characters was preserved : there was no 'starring'-(if Miss Waldorf will forgive us for saying it) quite a rare thing when a Company is run by a lady. The introduced 'gags' went with a rattle; not one full flat. To the scared and soured person who follows religiously the hundred and one things, good, bad, and indifferent, which emanate north-east of Bohotle, whither he was to every year from the theatrical centres some of these may seem a trifle woolly proceed the same day with reliefs and probut we are a few yards removed from Regent Circus, and the dainty play-houses of Paris. We are grateful for a little wit, and to most of those who go to the Theatre betwixt this and Wednesday night the jokes will be new. Mr Wilson Forbes is as good a Joseph Carbury as the creator of the part; Mr Fitchett has the proper conception of what Burnand intended Dick Whortles to be, a good-natured lack-of-luck, but not quite the fool that he looks ; whilst the Baron of Mr McGregor is a good skit of the orthodox sort on the vagaries of our French friends, without being in the least degree offensive to Monsieur. In the title part, Miss Mildred Yorke could hardly be better. The mischief of the lady of fashionable resorts, 'daughter of someone or other,' is piquantly played, and 'Thanks, granted,' will, no doubt, be on the lips and tickle the ears of a good few for some time. BOAT CO., LTD, The second annual general meeting of the Hongkong Steam Water-Bont Co., Limited, was held at No. 20, Des Voeux Road, this afternoon. Mr Liso Taze San (Chairman) presided, and there were also present Messrs Chau Siu Ki, E. S. Joseph, J. W. Kew (Manager), Captain Clark, and

F. X. Xavier.

The Chairman said-Gentlemen,-The report and accounts having been in your hands for some time, I will take them as read, but before proceeding any further I should like to be allowed to explain the regrettable incident referred to in the Report, namely, the embezziement of the sum of $1755.28 of the Co.'s funds by an employé. Besides performing the duties of a clerk, the man was also charged with the collection of bills, not being a shroff in the proper sense of that term, and being a Portuguese, he was not, of course, secured. When your Manager discovered the embezelement, he promptly had a warrant issued for the man's arrest, but it was too late, as he had already disappeared. Your Committee deeply regret the occurrence, but under the circumstances it was unavoidable. For the future, we have fully guard ed against a similar occurrence by having the present collector scoured, so you need feel no anxiety on that score. Coming to the Report before us, it is highly gratifying to the Committee, and, I feel sure, it must be to the shareholders as well, that the results for the past year are so excellent Against the earnings of $8863.58 which we put before you twelve months ago, the earnings for the past year are, as you see, $17,434.37. You will be pleased to hear gentlemen, that this splendid result is not to be looked upon as merely temporary, owing to the scarcity of water a few months ago, but is a substantial and permanent increase of the business of the Company. I need hardly say that we owe this improved position of our Company to the excellent management and the energy of our Manager. (Hear, hear). There is one other matter mentioned in the Report, and Lwill move the adoption of the Report and accounts, but before putting it to the meeting, I will be pleased to answer any questions shareholders may wish to ask. Captain Clark-Do you intend to call up the $3 at once or only as required? It is only a small matter, it is true, but we should like to know. The Chairman-At once.
